Personal Statement

I am a very easy going and always very approachable. I have grown up loving sports of all kind but have always taken a liking to Soccer and teaching the game from an early age.

I come from a very large family of 15 aunties and uncles with many cousins. I also have one older brother. Since leaving school in England aged 16 I decided to continue education and to chase my dream which was to coach soccer one day as a living. Since 16 I gained great experience from professional clubs whilst still playing competitively at a high level. I then went on to university at 18 where I studied Physical Education for 3 years.

At University I got great experience working with various age groups coaching soccer. I have now graduated University which made me and my family very proud. Once I finished University I felt the next step was to coach over in USA which was a childhood dream for me. I have now coached in 3 different states this summer and directed the camps in each of them. It is my ambition that someday I will work over in USA and live there on a full time basis.
