

Passing Progression 1 (10 mins)

Set Up

10x10 square

4 equal lines at each cone

Instructions pass forward run forward

Players will pass to the line in front of them and follow their pass. Quickly integrate two touch, receive and pass. If that is going well go to 1 touch.

Instructions pass forward run sideways

Players will pass forward and run to the line beside them. Again, go to two touch and then to one touch if players need the additional challenge.

Coaching Points

1. Proper passing technique- toe up, ankle locked, pendulum swing, opposite foot comfortable placed beside the ball and pointed toward the target.
2. Proper receiving technique- toe up, ankle locked, cradling the ball in but keeping the ball in front not underneath or way out in front.
3. Keep the ball on the ground
4. If you try one touch, the weight of the pass is very important

Passing Progression 2 (10 mins)

Set Up

10x10 grid

Equal lines at each cone

Instructions for Pass diagonal, run forward

Players will pass to the line diagonal from them and run to the line in front of them. Quickly integrate two touch, receive and pass. If that is going well go to 1 touch.

Instructions for Pass sideways, run forward

Players will pass to the line beside them and run to the line in front of them. Again get into two touch if possible and then to one touch if players are excelling at two touch.

Coaching Points

1. Proper passing technique- toe up, ankle locked, pendulum swing, opposite foot comfortable placed beside the ball and pointed toward the target.
2. Proper receiving technique- toe up, ankle locked, cradling the ball in but keeping the ball in front not underneath or way out in front.
3. Players have their hips facing forward, but play the ball diagonally for the diagonal passing sequence.
4. For one touch passing the weight of the pass is very important

5v1 to Zone

Set Up

2 20x15 grids cut in half

Instructions

Split your team into two groups. Field 1 is doing the same thing as field 2. Each group puts one defender in the middle so that it's a 5v1 or 6v1. To score a point players will need to make 3 consecutive passes and then pass to a teammate into zone 2. At the point the whole team shifts into zone 2 and works to get 3 more consecutive passes before playing their teammate into the space back into zone 1.

Keep defenders in the middle for 2 minutes and then switch someone else in.

Coaching points

1. Proper passing technique
2. Taking a touch/ receiving the ball instead of just kicking
3. Passing away from the defender
4. Where can I support my teammate with the ball? Beside them (not too close)? In front of them? Across from them? Behind them?

5. Using the whole space

3v1 to Goal

Set Up

Use full width and start the offensive players about 25 yards out from the goal. Defenders start off the goal post.

Instructions

Start the ball with the middle attacker. The defender may run out to defend on the attacking players first touch. At this point it is 3v1 to goal. Once they get the hang of the drill feel free to start the ball at any of the three attackers so the play starts at different angles.

Have 4 defenders and the rest of the team divided into the attacking lines. Switch defenders to attacking and some attackers to defending every 5 minutes.

Progression

1. Add a passing rule that they need 1 pass or 2 passes to score.
2. Add a second defender

Coaching Points

1. First touch and receiving a pass into space
2. Passing away from the defender
3. Where can we support the player with the ball? In front of them? behind them? Maybe running around them (overlapping run)?
